1. Knowing our Client/Instructions

1.1 Who is our Client?

You are our client and unless otherwise directed we take instructions only from you. Unless instructed to the contrary, we shall be entitled to assume:-

- A. If you are joint clients, we can take instructions from either or any of you;

- B. If you are a company, then we can take instructions from any director, the company secretary, or anyone authorised by an officer of the Company to do so;
- C. If you are a Limited Liability Partnership or Partnership, we can take instructions from any member, partner or anyone authorised by any member or partner to do so;
- D. In the event that you are a corporate or incorporated body (other than as referred to in B. and C. above) then we can take instructions from an authorised officer of the said body or anyone authorised by the said body to do so.

1.2 Instructions

As your Agent we can only act on the information and instructions given to us by you. You should not assume that we have knowledge of any factual matters beyond those imparted to us by you. We can only act in your best interests if we are in possession of all the relevant facts from you and it is essential that when we request instructions or additional information from you this is given timeously.

You may instruct us either verbally, in writing (including e-mail communication if that is appropriate). We reserve the right to ask you to confirm verbal instructions to us in writing. If at any time there is any change in your instructions to us, you must notify us immediately in writing and seek an acknowledgement that the change has been properly recorded.

All confidential information provided to us in relation to your business will be received and acted upon in strict confidence and will only be disclosed to those parties or bodies authorised by you, or as reasonably required by the Law Society of Scotland, or any other authorised body or Authority.

1.3 Internet/Email

Internet communications are capable of data corruption. We cannot accept any responsibility or liability for changes made to such communications after their despatch, nor can it guarantee their successful receipt or delivery. For that reason it may be inappropriate to rely upon advice transmitted by e-mail without obtaining written confirmation of it. We do not accept responsibility or liability for any errors or problems that may arise through the use of Internet communication. All inherent risks in sending commercially sensitive information relating to your business rests with you. If you do not agree to accept this risk, you should notify us in writing immediately that e-mail is not an acceptable means of communication for you or your business.

1.4 Client's responsibilities

You are responsible for keeping us advised of any change of contact details e.g. address, email address or telephone number. We will use our best endeavours to give you notice of when you will be required to sign documents but on occasion you may need to be available at short notice to sign documents. Similarly, please keep in contact with us regarding your holiday plans if critical dates have to be met as part of your transaction.

1.5 Client Due Diligence/ID

To meet our statutory requirements under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002, the Terrorism Act 2000, Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Transfer of Funds (Information on Payer) Regulations 2017 (as amended), and the rules of The Law Society of Scotland, we are obliged to properly identify our clients and to verify the financial credentials of both the clients and the transaction in which we are instructed before starting work.

Unless you confirm to the contrary we will presume you are not a Politically Exposed Person (PEP). Anyone who has been resident in the UK for more than a year or who is currently a UK national residing in the UK cannot be a PEP. PEP's are individuals who are or have (within the last 12 months) been entrusted with prominent public functions and include the following:

- Heads of State, Heads of Government, Ministers and Deputy or Assistant Ministers;
- Members of Parliaments;
- Members of Supreme Courts, of Constitutional Courts or of other high-level judicial bodies whose decisions are not generally subject to further appeal, other than in exceptional circumstances;

- Members of the administrative, management or supervisory bodies of state-owned enterprises.

To comply with the Regulations we must ask you to provide us with up-to-date personal ID and proof of address and all the relevant details of your financial/funding sources for the transaction (if appropriate) as we may deem necessary at the earliest opportunity. We require to confirm your ID before commencing any work on your behalf. In this regard, we use Amiquis ID - www.amiquis.co.uk. We will send you a secure link to their platform where you can upload the required ID documents in a secure and encrypted way. Verification by Amiquis uses biometric cross-checks which allow us to rely on their confirmation of ID and, in most circumstances, undertaking additional checks.

If you do not wish to provide ID by this method, please forward to us the originals of two of the following items (one from each group). The documents will be photocopied and returned to you immediately:-

A delay or failure to produce this information may require us to carry out enhanced due diligence and may result in a delay in us progressing your transaction. As your Solicitors we would prefer to avoid such an eventuality but you will understand that we are constrained by the Regulations.

In relation to commercial clients, we are required to remain up to date with the ownership structure and business activity of any company or commercial entity that we act for. As a result, we will require you to complete the Commercial Client Questionnaire outlining the company's business plan, financial situation and ownership hierarchy. This must be completed and signed by a director, partner, trustee or authorised signatory before being returned to us.

The Regulations also require you to notify us immediately of any material change in your funding sources or arrangements that you have made known to us at the outset of your instruction to us. If there is such a change we may have to investigate the changes, request additional information, and, if absolutely necessary, suspend work until the additional due diligence is completed.

Under the Regulations cash transactions are deemed potentially dangerous. For that reason, and to avoid you further unnecessary diligence, please note that in all cases we will not accept clients' funds in cash unless for single transactions with a value of £500.00 or less.

2. Our Work

2.1 Your contact with Rollos

Primary responsibility for the conduct of the transaction will lie with the Instructed Solicitor as detailed in the Engagement letter/email you have received from us. As the instruction progresses others within Rollos may assist the Instructed Solicitor.

The advice we expect to be giving and the work that we expect to be undertaking on your instructions will be: -

- 2.1.1 detailed in the Engagement letter/email;
- 2.1.2 drafting and finalising all documentation to completion of the work detailed in the Engagement letter/email;
- 2.1.3 generally all other work ancillary to your instruction.

2.2 Completion of the Work

The nature of the instruction and the work will determine the length of time it takes to complete the work. We undertake to keep you informed (both verbally and in writing) of progress and all significant events that may affect that progress (and expect you to do likewise), but we cannot give any binding estimate as to when the work will be completed.

3. Charge Out Rates & Payment Terms

3.1 Our Fees

Our fees are calculated by reference to a number of factors, but critically upon the time spent by the Instructed Solicitor and others working on the matter. Our work roster is divided up into units of 6 minutes each, each unit being worth the following: -

- Partner/Consultant - £35.00
- Associate/Senior Solicitors - £28.00
- Assistant Solicitors - £24.00
- Trainee Solicitor with Restricted Practising Certificate - £22.00
- Trainee Solicitor - £20.00
- Paralegal Assistant - £19.00
- Support Staff - £12.00

These rates are revised from time to time and usually annually. We shall inform you of any increase in advance of any change being effected.

Each unit is applied as follows:-

- Telephone calls received and made are timed in units of 6 minutes each.
- Letters, faxes and email are charged at 1.25 units for each page of 125 words or part thereof. Formal letters/emails such as acknowledgements and confirmatory letters/emails are charged at 0.5 units.
- Deeds and documents intended to have a contractual effect including missives, formal writs, figured statements and accounts, inventories and relative schedules, Memorials for Opinion, Court writs, Motions and associated papers are charged at 5 units per page.

- The time spent considering matters perusing documentation, attending you in person, travelling, attending Court and all other personal work undertaken on the file are charged on the file at the time actually spent and recorded.

A charge of 5% will be applied to all fees to cover posts and incidents. Any fees quoted are exclusive of VAT.

A fee of £20 plus VAT per named individual will be applied for completion of the client ID and address verification process. Where enhanced due diligence is required to verify your ID or address or otherwise in respect of compliance with our anti money laundering regulations, we reserve the right to charge an additional fee based on the time spent to meet our professional and regulatory requirements.

In the administration of Trusts and Estates where we are handling client funds we are entitled to commission charges on the financial transactions we instruct/handle in the course of the instructions. An appointed Law Accountant may be appointed to independently assess these charges.

3.2 Outlays and Additional Costs

There may be certain outlays and additional costs that we incur in progressing your instruction such as registration dues payable to The Land Register of Scotland, Court Dues payable to the Scottish Court Service, Sheriff Officers' charges, advertising costs for the sale or letting of properties, fees payable to lender portals, courier charges, travel costs (currently charged at £0.45 per mile) subsistence and administration costs such as photocopying etc. which will be charged as outlays on your account.

3.3 Payments to Account

We reserve the right to seek payments to account from our Clients in respect of fees and pre-payment in full of all outlays that are anticipated.

3.4 Interim Fees

Depending on the nature of the business instructed it is our usual practice to issue interim fees on either a monthly or a quarterly basis. A final account will rendered upon completion of the business.

3.5 Payment Terms

We expect payment in full of all invoices within 14 days of the Invoice being rendered.

Any cheque, CHAPS or BACS payment made to us by you as the client must be from an account held in your name with an UK bank or building society. We do not accept banker's drafts.

We will not accept, or pay out, more than £500 in cash (with the exception of rent from a tenant where we will accept up to £2,000).

If payment is not made timeously, or in full, we reserve the right: -

- 3.5.1 To charge an administration fee in the sum of £75 plus VAT for recovery of any balance of outstanding fees before legal proceedings are raised; and,

3.5.2 In the event we require to raise legal proceedings for recovery of the outstanding sum additional (judicial) interest will be sought together with judicial expenses.

3.6 Remit to an Auditor of Court

We reserve the right to remit your business file to the Auditor of Court for the purpose of fee assessment at any juncture throughout the course of your instruction for the purpose of raising interim and/or final fee invoices. The Auditor of Court's fee for carrying out such an assessment will be chargeable to you. Further, in the event that our level of charges is disputed, your file on your request will be remitted to the Auditor of Court who will carry out an independent and objective fee assessment. In the event the Auditor of Court assesses the fee to be higher than the fee raised we reserve the right to charge the higher fee assessed.

4. Payments Regarding Property Sales and Purchases

When you are selling property we will deduct all outstanding costs together with our fees from the sale proceeds as soon as practicable after the date on which the sale is completed. When you are buying property fees and costs will be payable by you by agreement. Property and other purchase transactions are usually settled by remitting funds by direct bank transfer from our client account. To comply with Law Society of Scotland Accounting Rules we must have cleared funds in that account and it is your responsibility to arrange for us to have cleared funds in time for settlement. You may do so by direct bank transfer or by cheque but please note that cheques can take approximately 7 working days (or longer in the case of intervening bank holidays) to clear and you must allow for this. If we do not have cleared funds from you, we will not be able to settle the transaction on the due date in which event you will not be given entry and may be in breach of your contract with the seller. Where we act for both the purchaser and the seller, the purchaser will sign a letter of authority authorising the transfer of the purchase price to the seller's ledger on the due date in implement of the purchaser's obligation.

In relation to property sales, payment is in certain circumstances made to us by cheque from the purchaser's solicitors. Funds received in this way, although guaranteed, will not be cleared funds in our hands for approximately 7 working days (or longer in the case of intervening bank holidays). In those circumstances we will endeavour to issue you with a cheque on the date of settlement (unless you bank with our bank, i.e. The Royal Bank of Scotland plc) but we will be unable to telegraphically transfer funds to you until we have cleared funds. The other method of payment is by telegraphic transfer directly into our bank account from the bank of the purchaser's solicitors. If your settlement takes place in this way then the funds are immediately cleared and available to you subject to payment of the bank transfer fee of £25 plus VAT. We are unable to insist that payment is made by telegraphic transfer to us and if that is a requirement we need to have your specific instructions to that effect at the outset of the transaction and payment by this method would require to be agreed by the purchaser. Where a telegraphic transfer is made (whether to client or lender) the client will be responsible for the CHAPS fee and VAT.

With regard to redemption of mortgages, where the lender requires payment of the sum required to redeem the outstanding mortgage to be made by telegraphic transfer, then we will require to wait until the purchaser's solicitors cheque clears so that we are in possession of cleared funds to enable us to redeem the mortgage. We will also charge a bank transfer fee of £25 plus VAT. The mortgage will be redeemed (as required under professional rules) by our firm on the basis of the redemption figure stated in the lender's redemption statement. The client is responsible for (1) paying to the lender any shortfall between the amount stated on the redemption statement and the amount actually required to redeem the mortgage in full, whether or not this shortfall arises by adjustments as a result of operation of a current account mortgage or otherwise by an adjustment of the mortgage redemption statement, and/or (2) recovery of any overpayment made on the redemption of the mortgage. It may be the case, however, that there are delays in obtaining a mortgage redemption statement or adjustments which require to be made to that statement and in these circumstances we will require to delay final accounting and transfer of the final balance to you for a reasonable period until such time as matters are clarified.

5. Professional Liability

5.1 Rollos carries professional indemnity insurance. The level of the cover is reviewed annually.

5.2 The aggregate liability of Rollos (which for the avoidance of doubt shall include for the purposes of this clause), its members, partners, employees and other agents for losses, damages, costs, claims and/or expenses (whether arising under contract, tort, delict, statute or otherwise) in relation to the work referred to in the Engagement letter/email sent to you or in respect of any other piece of work (or series of connected pieces of work) shall not exceed £2,000,000. Rollos shall not have liability for losses, damages, costs, claims and/or expenses which arise as a consequence (whether direct or otherwise) of:-

5.2.1 information provided by you and/or on your behalf being incomplete, inaccurate, illegible, out of sequence, misleading, missing, late or deficient in any respect whatsoever; and/or

5.2.2 any other failure attributable to you and/or a third party; and you shall indemnify Rollos, on demand, in respect of the same. Rollos shall have no liability to you in respect of any indirect or consequential loss or damage (whether in the form of loss of profit or otherwise) howsoever arising. Rollos shall have no liability to a third party for losses, damages, costs, claims and/or expenses which arise in connection with (whether directly or indirectly) services provided to you and you shall indemnify Rollos, on demand, in respect of the same. Nothing in the preceding terms shall exclude or restrict any rights you may have in respect of fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation or operate to exclude or restrict liability in respect of breach of contract and/or negligence which results in death or personal injury. Nothing contained in the preceding terms will exclude or restrict a liability of Rollos to the extent that the same cannot be excluded or restricted by law or the professional rules of the Law Society of Scotland.

5.3 By your acceptance of these terms, you:-

5.3.1 agree not to make a claim against any of the members, partners, employees and other agents of Rollos in respect of the services referred to in the Engagement letter/email or in relation to any other piece of work (or series of connected pieces of work) done for you;

5.3.2 acknowledge and agree that any advice given to you by a member, employee or other agent of Rollos is given on behalf of Rollos and not in his/her capacity as an individual; and

5.3.3 acknowledge and agree that no special duty is owed to you by a member, employee or other agent of Rollos.

6. Incidental Financial Business

We are authorised by the Law Society of Scotland to carry out incidental financial business. These activities are limited in scope and we will not provide or comment on any investment advice. Where we receive commission from brokers in respect of business handled on your behalf, we will retain such commission and set it against the fee we would otherwise have charged for the work carried out.

7. Administration and Regulation

7.1 Conflict of Interest

In terms of the Solicitors (Scotland) Practice Rules 1986 Solicitors are not allowed to act where either their interest conflicts with those of their Clients, or where they are acting for two or more Clients whose interests conflict. In the event of any such conflict arising, whether actual or potential, we shall advise you as to how this should be best dealt with. This may include us withdrawing as your Agent in order to best protect your interests. As a matter of good practice all transactions are monitored on an ongoing basis to highlight at the earliest opportunity and help avoid any conflict of interest arising.

7.2 Commissions

As Solicitors we are entitled to retain exclusively commission of up to 0.25% on clients' deposits paid to us as introducers without further disclosure. We may receive commission from third parties for the introduction of business to them.

7.3 Holding Funds for You

We will hold money for you in accordance with the rules of the Law Society of Scotland. If we hold funds on your behalf which are likely to earn in excess of £100 in interest while held by us then we are obliged to invest the funds such that they earn interest on a short term basis. These funds will normally be deposited with The Royal Bank of Scotland plc through its Client Money Service Accounts ("CMS"). The total funds invested for our clients under the CMS are pooled enabling RBS to offer a competitive rate of interest. As this rate is only available through the introduction of all clients monies deposited, the Bank pays us, as intermediary, a % of the invested funds. The Law Society of Scotland has approved the CMS Scheme as an appropriate method by which Solicitors can handle client deposits. We are happy to provide you with more information should you so wish.

7.4 Retention of Files, Papers etc.

We are entitled by law to retain all your files, papers and documents, etc. until all fees and costs properly due to Rollos have been paid in full.

7.5 Physical & Electronic Storage of Files

After we have completed your business we may close and store our correspondence file for your business for up to a maximum of ten years, or otherwise as prescribed by the Law Society of Scotland for certain types of business, after which it will be destroyed.

We may also scan and electronically store correspondence, documents and papers for our clients. Where the contents of files are scanned and electronically stored, we reserve the right to destroy the hard copy prior to the end of The Law Society's recommended retention period. Electronic records may be retained beyond The Law Society's recommended retention period. As in certain circumstances electronic copies of documents may have lesser evidential weight than the originals you must advise us in writing if you do not wish your file to be electronically stored.

7.6 Mandates

Subject to Condition 3.5 we will deliver your papers to another Agent upon receipt of a valid Mandate and that within the time scales laid down by The Law Society of Scotland. We are entitled to render a fee for delivery of documents in these circumstances. Electronic records will be transmitted in the appropriate format. If electronic records are not acceptable to a new agent you will have to pay the costs incurred in producing hard copies.

7.7 Tax Returns

Unless otherwise specifically agreed with the instructed solicitor it will be the client's responsibility to submit to HMRC or Revenue Scotland any necessary information and/or tax returns arising from the subject matter of our instruction (including without prejudice to the foregoing generality any future Land and Building Transaction Tax return which requires to be submitted by commercial tenants every 3 years throughout the currency of their Lease).

It will also be the client's responsibility to report to HMRC or Revenue Scotland the disposal of a property, which has not always been used as the client's main home, within 30 days of settlement and to pay any Capital Gains Tax payable on the disposal within the same period.
